MEGAN KOVACH – PROJECT44

105 WEST ADAMS ST #3200 • CHICAGO, IL 60606

Sept 15, 2017

Megan,

I am very excited about the engineering positions at Project44. Turning legacy technology into new efficient systems is music to my ears. In my last role, the position required quickly familiarizing myself with technical problems, financial concepts, legal requirements, and more. This turned a scary, slow system into a productive, efficient one.

Whether as a Junior Software Engineer or Support Engineer I would bring a lot to any team. I feel my greatest strength is in translation - delivering a message to a back-end engineer, a client rep or a marketer in their language of choice. Once I have a concept I can get going in any programming language quickly.

Technically, I am a voracious learner and think that debugging and working through difficult problems is the best thing about coding! I'm re-doing my final bootcamp project in Java to learn the language better. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Mark Franciose
